

PRIVACY POLICY

Commercial Equity Group Pty Ltd, ABN 67 009 509 077 ('we', 'us', 'our') is committed to protecting your privacy and the confidentiality of your personal and credit information (information). In handling your credit information, we are bound by, and comply with, the Privacy Act 1988, the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) and the Credit Reporting Privacy Code (Code).

This privacy policy sets out how we collect and manage your information, how you can access that information if you wish and how you can complain if you are not satisfied with our policies and processes.

1. Collection and storage of personal information

We collect information from, and about, you to, as appropriate:

- respond to your enquiries about our finance products we can source for you
- to confirm your identity
- assess your credit application and provide you with the finance you require from us
- assess the application for finance made by a company of which you are, or were, a director
- assess your application to guarantee the repayment of finance we are considering providing
- provide customer support
- promote our finance products
- manage any complaints
- manage any business arrangements under which we provide or receive goods or services

We also use the information we collect to:

- manage your account
- develop new products, policies and procedures
- undertake market research
- obtain legal and compliance advice about our obligations
- meet our regulatory and legal obligations

The information we collect may include personal identification, contact details, financial information, lending and default history, banking details and transactions, personal and trade references and employment or business history, depending on the relationship you wish to have with us. If you choose not to provide this information, our ability to assist you may be restricted.

Wherever possible, we will collect your information directly from you, or from your broker, should you wish to apply for finance. We may obtain personal information about you from a third party, such as your accountant or banking institution, or a credit reporting body, for a particular purpose. Wherever possible we will tell you who we need to contact and why. However, if you are, or were, a director of a company applying to us for finance, we will collect information about you sourced from publicly available official corporate records and, if a current director, from a credit reporting body.

We may also collect information from you if you choose to use our website to communicate with us. We will collect the information you provide when you fill out a product or service application form or over the telephone or, through our interactive facilities, such as customer enquiry or comment forms.

In some circumstances, brokers, dealers, accountants, banking institutions, referees, external dispute resolution schemes, your agents and government bodies, and with your authorisation at the time, a banking transaction data service, may provide us with your information. The circumstances in which third parties provide us with information include purchase or service requirements, employment or finance applications, account management and complaints.

We take steps to protect any information we collect so it will be safeguarded from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, use, disclosure or modification.

The law may require us to retain your personal information for a period of time after our business dealings have finished. It is securely stored and disposed of, or de-identified, when no longer required.

2. Website information collection

When you visit our website, our ISP host records a range of information, including your server address, domain name, the date and time of the visit and the pages viewed. This information may be collected by using cookies, which is data sent to your web browser. This allows our site to interact more efficiently with your computer.

If you disable the use of cookies, your use of our site may be affected. Information collected about your visit to our site is retained for statistical and website development reasons and is not in a form which would enable us to identify you.

When visiting our site, you will not be required to provide us with any personal information unless you request information about our finance or respond to a promotion. If you do, we will ask you to provide contact details along with other information required to respond to your contact with us.

We may also retain that information provided for product planning purposes. It may also be used for direct marketing purposes unless you tell us you do not wish to receive marketing material.

3. Use and disclosure

We use your information to provide you, or a company of which you are a director, with the finance required, consider your suitability to be a guarantor and perform other functions and activities associated with managing our relationship.

Those functions and activities can include our internal administration, credit assessment, account management, product or service development, compliance audits/reviews, marketing, complaints management, planning and research requirements as well as future offers of finance to you.

Where you, as an individual, apply for finance with us, or agree to act as a guarantor, you authorise how we may collect, use and disclose your personal and credit information in the Privacy Statement and Consent we ask you to sign before we consider your application for credit or to be a guarantor.

We will disclose your information to third parties only as the Privacy Act permits and where there is a valid reason to do so. All third parties must use your information only for the specific purpose for which we supply it.

Third parties may include:

- Employees, contractors, auditors and advisers
- Credit reporting bodies (CRB)
- Service providers (e.g. computer systems consultants, document custodians, mailing houses, identity verifiers etc) to enable them to perform those services, including any overseas service providers where information is sent/stored
- Your agents, including your broker, where required
- Insurers, insurance brokers and insurance assessors
- Debt collection agencies
- Referees, where authorised
- Companies to which we are related
- Government authorities and law enforcement agencies, as required by law only

We may also provide your information to, and receive your information from, Equifax Australia Information Services & Solutions Ltd, which is a credit reporting body (the CRB). We may:

- Disclose your information to the CRB for credit assessment or collections purposes
- Use information provided by the CRB for credit assessment or collections purposes, including:
 - Your name, address and date of birth
 - Current and previous credit account history
 - Your personal or business credit score, depending on the nature of the credit application
 - Default history
 - Any court proceedings – summons, judgment and Bankruptcy actions
 - Serious credit infringements history, covering fraudulently obtaining, or attempting to obtain finance or shown an intention to avoid repayment obligations
- Notify the CRB of any overdue payments, provided they are more than 60 days overdue, we have attempted to collect the payment and we have notified you of our intention to do so
- Notify the CRB of a serious credit infringement if we have reasonable grounds to believe you fraudulently obtained, or attempted to obtain, credit from us or that you have shown an intention to evade your obligations under the contract with us

- We will only do this if we have not been able to contact you over a 6-month period
- Ask the CRB to assess your eligibility to receive direct marketing material from us

Any information shared with, or by, the CRB is held in electronic form, trackable through the CRB or our systems by time, date, account and user.

In addition, we may provide your identification details to the CRB and/or another service provider to:

- check those details with a document issuer or official record holder via third party systems to confirm your identity; and
- assist in our compliance with Australia's Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing laws

Where information is provided to our service providers in which the entities are located include, but are not limited to the USA, Chile, the Philippines, India, Costa Rica and Ireland, we require them to comply with our information management policies and procedures, so your information has the same protections as if managed in Australia.

4. Information Access

You can access the personal and/or credit information we hold about you by contacting us in any of the ways shown in (6) below.

You can also access the information the CRB holds about you by contacting them for a copy of that information at:
